Note.

This catalogue was prepared and is printed under the direction and at the expense of the Society of the Sons of Dummer, an association of the alumni of the Academy having a fund, the income of which is devoted to the advancement of the general interests of the institution.

From want of care in registering the names of pupils, doubtless names are omitted or incorrectly spelled, information of which addressed to the subscriber or to the Principal of the Academy is desired, for a more correct catalogue in the future. From the same cause the names of pupils are arranged collectively under different Principals, instead of the years they respectively entered.

The residence of pupils at the time they attended school are given.

When a pupil has entered college and has not been graduated, the name of the college, without date, is inserted.

In order to identify the older pupils, any offices they held, or titles, have been given, which rule has been continued through the catalogue.

The abbreviations will be known without explanations.

WILLIAM D. NORTHEND.

Salem, June, 1884.

PREFACE.

Dummer Academy was founded by the Honorable William Dummer, who was Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Massachusetts Bay from 1716 to 1730, and acting Governor from 1723 to 1728, and from the time of the death of Governor Burnet until the arrival of Governor Belcher.

He was grandson of Richard Dummer, one of the early settlers of Newbury, a man of great wealth and liberality.

Governor Dummer was born in Boston in 1679, and died there October 10, 1761. He inherited the large landed estate in the Parish of Byfield in Newbury, which had belonged to his grandfather, and in 1720, as nearly as can be ascertained, he erected on it the mansion house in which he resided in summer during the remainder of his life, and which now, in a good state of preservation, is used as a dormitory for pupils.

In his will he gave his farm in Byfield, containing about three hundred and thirty acres, with his mansion house, to trustees, the income from the same to be first appropriated to the erection of a "Grammar school house," "on the most convenient part of my sd farm," and after that forever "towards the maintenance of a grammar school master in said school."

The school was opened for pupils, March 1, 1763, under the charge of the celebrated Master Moody, who retained the position until 1790.

In 1782 the school was incorporated under the name of Dummer Academy.

During the entire period of the existence of the academy, more than one hundred and twenty years, it has been conducted largely as what is now known as a Home school. Master Moody boarded the boys so far as his accommodations would allow, and his practice has been followed by all the teachers since his day. Upon the appointment of Mr.

Perkins, the present principal, it was deemed desirable to make additional accommodations with a view to render it more exclusively a Home School. With this view the Dummer mansion has been refitted and a large addition made to the Principal's house. The result thus far has been highly satisfactory. The accommodations thus secured are sufficient for thirty boys.

The institution needs an additional dormitory. It is hoped that this want will be supplied by some generous friend of the academy and of learning.

Beside the farm and buildings, and an endowment from the state now amounting to about $10,000, the following described funds are for the benefit of the institution.

STICKNEY FUND.

SARAH HALE STICKNEY, of Lowell, in her will approved July 10, 1883, made the following bequest :

"I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Dummer Academy, in said Byfield, to be known as the Stickney fund, in memory of my honored father, and of his interest in said academy, and in the cause of education and religion, the income to be used for the support of instruction in said academy, the sum of Ten Thousand dollars, the income only to be annually expended for the benefit and advantage of said Academy."

The SONS OF DUMMER have a fund amounting to $1200.

The MOODY KENT fund, seven hundred dollars, was given by will of Moody Kent for purchase of medals, etc., to be presented to deserving pupils.

One thousand dollars was contributed by the alumni and other friends of the academy for improvement of the buildings, in 1882.
